LexisNexis® Accurint® for Health Care

Focus in on the information you need to empower critical decisions throughout the investigative cycle.

Fight fraud, waste and abuse more effectively with a point-of-need solution for investigating suspicious health care providers and members.

Today's health care payers face pressing challenges to protect their members; reduce fraud, waste and abuse; and comply with mounting regulations, while competing effectively in an evolving market. There's a lot at stake, and the need for efficiency and accuracy at every stage of the claims cycle never has been greater. This new world requires new tools – solutions that work faster, better and smarter.

LexisNexis® Accurint® for Health Care: Provider, Member and Claims Management at point of need.

Accurint for Health Care is a powerful solution that works when and where you need it to investigate suspicious claims. With Accurint, payers can:

Verify the identities and validate the professional licenses of health care providers nationwide, with uniquely in-depth information on board certifications, licensing, legal standing and criminal records.

Identify connections among people, businesses and assets, visualizing these relationships using sophisticated mapping tools.

Collaborate with other National Health Care Anti-Fraud Association members through the Special Investigation Resource and Intelligence System (SIRIS), which helps members cooperate with one another and share critical information on suspected fraud and abuse cases.

Track down individuals suspected of fraud or abuse using up-to-date contact information or via past associates.

LexisNexis® | Health Care

Because of the resource-intensive nature of today's investigative process, many payers are forced to set parameters that severely limit the number of claims reviewed. Someone with corrupt intentions often can determine the attributes of claims that will fly under a payer's editing and detection radar.
